SUPREME CT. KNOCKS OUT LATE STATUTE

DECLARES THAT NEW LAW MAKING APPELLATE COURT FINAL IS UNCONSTITUTIONAL.

AFFECTS COURTHOUSE

Law Would Have Blocked Appeal to Supreme Court in Marshall County Case Now On.

JURISDICTION OF SUPREME AND APPELLATE COURTS

21832. Ex parte J. Fred France, clerk of the supreme court; Jordan C. J. Monks and Myers, J. J. concur. Morris and Cox, J. J. dissent.

(1) The act of March 3, 1911 (Acts 1911, Page 201), is unconstitutional and void excepting Section 3. (2) Both the Constitution of 1816 and 1851 prohibited the establishment of any court in parity of rank to the supreme court. (3) Where one court is placed at the head of the judicial system of the state the legislature is without authority to create another court of final, absolute jurisdiction within the state, to the exclusion of that court. (5) Since the main creative clauses of the act are void the repealing clauses of the act embracing the void part of the act must also be void. (6) Newman vs. Gates, 150 Ind. 59, held App. 392, to be good law, and refused certiorari for that reason, and any words therein contained which might be construed as authorizing the power of the legislature to create another court of final authority was beyond the question involved.

The big dredge which has been coming down Yellow river is about ready to pass through the city. A dam is being constructed above the Reeves bridge in order to hold back the water for floating the dredge down to that place. The work is about completed at the old dam site and they will be taking the dredge through Plymouth in a few days. The river bottom will be cleaned out in places as it passes through. The island just above the Reeves bridge will be scooped out and there will be some work done at the Pennsylvania railroad bridge. A second dam will be erected near the L. E. & W. bridge, in order to hold back the water to float the big shovel from the first dam through the city.

During the past few weeks there has been considerable agitation for dredging the river through the city. A number of parties have secured figures on the matter and some of the arguments pro and con are given below.

Those in favor of dredging the river through the city say that during the heavy rains the city will be flooded worse than heretofore. The river being dredged above the city will now carry more water and carry it faster than before. Instead of all the extra supply being held in check on the low farmlands in the northern part of the county, it will now be swiftly carried between the high containing walls on either side of the river as far as the former dam. The same amount of water flowing through the dredged river must be taken care of as it passes through Plymouth. There will be no deep channel with high banks. What is the conclusion? This must spread over the lower parts of town as heretofore but to a greater extent. Some say, that the lower part of the river being dredged, will be in a condition to take care of the over flow. A little study on the question will soon disprove that statement. It is a fact that more water will be turned into Yellow river, now that the river is dredged, than ever before. It will reach here in from 3 to 4 hours where before it took that many days. The same amount of water will flow through the basin of the river in this city as in the channels above and below here. What must become of the surplus? The people living in the low portions of Plymouth can give the answer.

Those opposed to dredging say that the beauty of the river will be spoiled. Must the value of property and the inconvenience brought about by the floods, be sacrificed for beauty? It would simply be a question of time until the banks would be covered with foliage, and with the right amount of labor expended upon them they would be in a better condition than at present. Some oppose her work on the ground that the sewerage of the city would be interfered with. This point will bear investigation, as it would be a very important matter to consider. The cost to dredge through now would be about $1500, including the leveling of banks. If the work has to be done later it would cost ten times that amount. But, if this work is not necessary, why spend the money?

The above arguments are not set forth by this paper but by different individuals interested in the city's welfare. Our columns are open to any one wishing to express their views on the subject.

To Study In Michigan Colleges.

Ned Kilmer left today for South Bend, where he will visit for a few days. From there he goes to Ypsilanti, Mich. He will enter the Cyprian Business College and also take the training at Michigan State Normal College. Prof. Schell is a graduate of both these institutions and highly recommends them. Ned expects to devote from nine to twelve months to college work and at the end of that time hopes to obtain a position as teacher of Commercial branches. He has already taken Shorthand and Bookkeeping and received a certificate in each branch because of his fine work.

Killed By Falling From Scaffold

While at work at Kokomo Wednesday afternoon, Alva Myers, a painter, fell from a scaffold and was killed instantly. He is thirty-three years of age and leaves a wife and step-daughter. The funeral will be Friday at two o'clock at the Kokomo Presbyterian church. Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Myers of Plymouth left this morning to attend the funeral. Chas. Myers is a brother to the man who was killed.

Woman's Power Over Man

Woman's most glorious endowment is the power to awaken and hold the pure and honest love of a worthy man. When she loses it and still loves on, no one in the wide world can know the heart agony she endures. The woman who suffers from weakness and derangement of her special womanly organism soon loses the power to sway the heart of a man. Her general health suffers and she loses her good looks, her attractiveness, her amiability and her power and prestige as a woman. Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., with the assistance of his staff of able physicians, has prescribed and cured many thousands of women. He has devised a successful remedy for woman's ailments. It is known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is a positive specific for the weaknesses and disorders peculiar to women. It purifies, regulates, strengthens and heals. Medicine dealers sell it. No honest dealer will advise you to accept a substitute in order to make a little larger profit.

IT MAKES WEAK WOMEN STRONG, SICK WOMEN WELL.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and strengthen Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

Summer Night's Serenade.

Wednesday evening, the residents of north Michigan street were awakened from their various attitudes of repose by the musical strains wafted on the evening breezes to their ears, as it were. The occasion for this singular outburst of stringent harmonies was a welcome to Mr. and Mrs. Lester Zumbaugh recently married in New York City.

The members of the Plymouth Band, of which Mr. Zumbaugh is a member, their wives, sweethearts and a few friends, participated in this happy gathering at the fine new residence of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Zumbaugh on north Michigan street. During the evening, these present were entertained by several fine vocal selections of Lester Zumbaugh, a student of the Nek York Musical Art Institute. His voice shows careful training and is of a pleasing quality. Mrs. Zumbaugh rendered a number of different piano solos, in the interpretation of which she displayed fine musical taste and a finished technique, impressing her hearers as an extraordinary pianist. Light refreshments were served by Mrs. Ira Zumbaugh. The band rendered several selections during the evening, the last being that true American composition, "Home, Sweet Home" after which the members of the party departed for their various residences.

Has Valuable Watch Stolen.

Al Burehard had his gold watch stolen at the Orpheum theatre last night. He has been doing some work at the Orpheum theatre and last night he laid his coat, containing a watch, over the back of a seat on the third row from the front. He went back to the rear to do some work, leaving his coat hanging on the seat. Later he remembered about the watch and went to get it. The coat was where he had left it, but the watch had been jerked off the chain. The first three rows are always occupied by the children and suspicious point toward a young boy who had been sitting in the seat just back of the one on which the coat had been lying. Mr. Burehard prized the watch very highly because it was taken off the body of his father who was killed on the railroad in Ft. Wayne.

Garbage Cans for City.

The City Board of Health has ordered about 100 garbage cans for use and they will be on sale in a short time. The receptacles will hold from 8 gallons upward. The cans will have covers and handles. Either the city or those owning the cans will have to hire a man to take care of them. In most places the city stands this expense as man more people would buy the cans if there was no further expense attached to it. In certain portions of the city it will be compulsory to have these cans. The price will range from 85 cents up, according to the size.
